

PROVISION AUTOMATION: Is there an App for that?

A Culture of Advancement

The world around us is advancing at a rapid pace when it comes to technology. Does anyone still have an old BlackBerry® smartphone? Or do you now use an iPad® tablet PC? They are everywhere because of what they offer, the efficiency they bring, and all of the “apps” that an individual user can incorporate to improve their lives.

Provision Automation Software

Have you thought of your provision automation in the same light? Unfortunately, there’s not an app that improves your company’s provision with each software upgrade. Not yet at least.

Implementing provision software is not a one-time project. Effective use of software requires timely focus and consideration of enhanced benefits, alternative benefits available, and enhanced system functionality. Recent upgrades have allowed for transparency and data flow from provision to return, comparative analytics, and enhanced jurisdictional computations.

Our Vision

At True Partners Consulting, our Provision Automation Team has evolved along with the evolution of tax provision automation solutions, resulting in the delivery of increased and enhanced tax provision automation, beyond what was available in the recent past.

Our detail oriented approach combined with our collaborative client relationships allows us to provide client specific implementations, enhance existing implementations, provide quarterly semi-annual support, and offer benefits that extend well beyond the provision.

Effective use of software requires timely focus and consideration of enhanced benefits, alternative benefits available, and enhanced system functionality.
